Radiologic Technology Students Raise $2,185

By Betty A. Proctor, Chattanooga State

November 26, 2018 (Chattanooga, TN) --- In little over two short weeks, Chattanooga State Community College students in the Radiologic Technology Student Society raised $2,185 for the Making Strides Walk for Breast Cancer. The walk was sponsored by the American Cancer Society and held on the ChattState campus. "We are very proud of the compassion our students display for their community and their dedication to our medical imaging profession," states Stacey Carter, Radiologic Technology program director.
