ROBERT HUANG, M.D. JOINS THE CHATTANOOGA HEART INSTITUTE AT CHI MEMORIAL

CHATTANOOGA, TN – The Chattanooga Heart Institute at CHI Memorial is pleased to welcome Robert Huang, M.D., MPH, FACC. Dr. Huang received his medical degree from Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine in Cleveland, Ohio. He completed his residency and internship in internal medicine at Vanderbilt University Medical Center, as well as fellowships in cardiovascular medicine and interventional cardiology. While at Vanderbilt University, he also earned a master's in public health. He is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine in internal medicine, cardiovascular disease, and interventional cardiology. Dr. Huang comes to The Chattanooga Heart Institute with experience as a previous STEMI Director, radial program director, and cath lab quality/AMI director.

The Chattanooga Heart Institute has 28 highly-trained cardiologists - including specialists in interventional procedures, electrophysiology, imaging and vascular disease - and two cardiothoracic surgeons on staff. This practice offers a comprehensive multi-disciplinary approach to cardiac care with a team of physicians providing recommendations on specific areas of treatment.

At The Chattanooga Heart Institute, cardiologists work in collaboration, aided by the latest technology, to diagnose heart problems and provide advanced interventional procedures for the treatment of heart disease. Rehabilitation services are available at CHI Memorial Hospital Chattanooga for those with an elevated risk of a cardiac event and for those who have experienced a cardiac event.

The Chattanooga Heart Institute at CHI Memorial offers access to the region's leading cardiologists in six locations convenient for you - Chattanooga, East Brainerd, Hixson, Cleveland, and Jasper in Tennessee and in Ringgold, Georgia. For more information or appointments, call (423) 697-2000 or visit the website at www.chattanoogaheart.com.
